HUNAN OUTLOOK.

FIGHTING EXPECTED SHORTLY.

ON KIANGSI BORDER.

Latest news of the situation in Hunan, on which the Canton authorities are keeping an alert eye, is to the effect that military activity is everywhere apparent, and it is expected that there will be considerable fighting within the next month.

NEW COMMANDER.

Having transported heavy artillery, which is being rapidly assembled in the southern part of Kiangsi on the Kwangtung frontier, it is stated that Chi Hsueh Yuan is to be appointed Generalissimo of all the forces operating against Kwangtung, and that Wei Yik-sam has been ordered to Kiangsi with his six Mixed Brigades. This information is said to have reached the Canton Government for General Tan Yen-kai, in his weekly report of the political situation, threw out a hint that the 10th and 12th Divisions of the 4th Army Corps, and the nine regiments of the 8th Army Corps of the Kwangsi unit, are sufficient to deal with the situation in Hunan, while the other troops of the Canton Army are required for defensive measures on the frontiers of Kiangsi and Fukien.

The arrival of Wu Pei-fu at Peking or Tientsin, to meet Chang Tso-lin, will relieve Chi Hsueh-yuen of his present incumbency, and he will then be able to assume supreme command of the expedition against Kwangtung.

THE RIVAL FORCES.

It is expected that at no distant date, probably in June, big battles will be fought on the Kiangsi and Hunan borders. The strength and composition of the Canton Army are known, but as regards the armies of Chi Hsueh-yuen, very little has been made public of composition, and, therefore, no comparisons can be made.

LABOUR UNREST.

In the meantime, labour troubles still cause considerable anxiety both to business people and Government officials in Canton. There have recently been several successful strikes for higher pay, and now a series of strikes for less hours of work has commenced. The paper workmen struck on the 27th inst., demanding shorter hours and the abolition of night work.

BANDIT RAILWAY ROBBERY.

Despite the vigilance of the railway guards and troops stationed between Shui-kwan and Canton, and also the extra military protection afforded for the transportation of troops and ammunition, another robbery of the downward train is reported, this being carried out by bandits who boarded the train at the stations of Ying Tak and Yuen Tam as passengers. It is said that after leaving the latter station, at a given signal the bandits took possession of the train by overpowering the guards and engineer, and began to take away everything of value from the passengers, whilst on approaching a bridge, the engineer was ordered to stop the train. The bandits then carried away all their booty and kidnapped six of the passengers.

WU HON-MAN IN SHANGHAI.

It is reported from Shanghai that Wu Hon-man arrived on the 18th instant by the s.s. President Grant. On landing, he was met by Lum Woon-tong, one of the Committees of the Construction of the Mausoleum of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen. It is stated that Wu is leading a strictly secluded life in Shanghai, awaiting developments.

THE KUOMINTANG'S POLICY.

THREE REVOLUTIONARY WEAPONS.

TO DEFEAT CHINA'S ENEMIES

The Kuomintang Party has issued a lengthy manifesto regarding the recent decisions of the Party with regard to the admission of Communists to membership. From this we take the following extracts:

"The Kuomintang have always maintained, and to-day more so than ever, that the success of the national revolution depends upon the closest unity of all really revolutionary forces. We cannot hope to defeat so powerful an enemy as world imperialism and our own militarism and reaction except by the closest unity of the really revolutionary forces, armed with the three revolutionary weapons of Nationalism, Democracy, and Socialism. Only in this way can we defeat the three enemies of China: World Imperialism, Militarism, and Reaction."

In the course of further statements, the declaration says it is too early for the imperialists, militarists and reactionaries to rejoice at the resolutions regulating the principle of co-operation. "The Kuomintang is certain that the decisions of the Central Committee upon not a new era of reactionary triumph over the national revolution, but an era in which obstacles have been removed to a still more effective struggle with the reactionaries, non-revolutionists, militarists and world imperialism." The Kuomintang is certain that the decision of the Central Committee will not lead to the capitulation of Kwangtung to the enemies but will lead to its strengthening and solidification. The strength of the revolutionary base in Kwangtung means the strength of the national revolution.

FORGED NOTES.

SEIZED AT ABERDEEN FERRY WHARF.

A Chinese was charged before Major C. Willson, at the Central Magistracy this morning, with being in possession of three forged $10 Hongkong banknotes, knowing them to be forged.

A Chinese constable on search duty at the Aberdeen Ferry wharf saw the defendant come off a sampan, and, stopping him, searched him. He felt a bundle under his trousers band, and asked him what it was. The defendant replied that it was Chinese tobacco. Witness opened the packet and found a purse which contained the forged notes.

Mr. R. P. Moodie, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, testified that the notes were forged.

The defendant said he received the notes in Macao from the sale of some duck's eggs.

Serjt. Hill, who prosecuted, said in view of the fact that the constable was Cantonese and the defendant Hoklo, he did not propose to emphasise the conversation when the defendant said the packet contained tobacco. If the defendant did say that, then it went to prove guilty knowledge, by attempting to conceal them.

Remarking that the notes were such obvious forgeries that the defendant must have known they were so, Major Willson sentenced defendant to three months imprisonment.

MACAO TROUBLE.

PICKETS CREATING MISCHIEF.

FUNERAL INTERFERENCE.

Our Macao correspondent writes stating that the pickets are endeavouring to create trouble with the Portuguese authorities, and that they have commenced their scheme by interfering with Chinese funeral processions.

BORDER PICKETING.

It will be recalled that we reported a few days ago interference by these pickets with the burial in Chinese territory, of Chinese who have died in Macao. Our correspondent says that practically every day there are corpses removed from the Chinese Hospital in Macao for burial across the border, but that the pickets do their best to place obstacles in the way of the processions. They have concentrated about a thousand men on the border, and appear to be anxious to do all they can to create trouble.

Considerable feeling has been aroused amongst the Chinese community on the subject, and the Portuguese authorities are taking all precautions to prevent trouble.

FRUITLESS APPEAL.

It is stated that the Hospital authorities have appealed to the Macao branch of the Kuomintang to use its influence in order to stop this interference with Chinese funerals, but that nothing has resulted from the negotiations. The latest report is that the Macao authorities have set aside a piece of land in Tum Chai as a Chinese cemetery, and that the Hospital has gladly availed itself of this offer.

It is feared, however, that the troubles have not yet come to an end, and hopes are expressed that the Canton Government may be induced to put a stop to the interference with age-long custom.

TYPHOON MATTERS.

Our Macao correspondent, writing in regard to other matters, states that a meeting has been held at Government House for the purpose of forming an association to deal with typhoon questions. There was a large attendance at the meeting, amongst those present being the Bishop of Macao, Messrs. Yew Lim-yuk, Piliha Tinoco, Fong Chok-lam, Monteiro Lopes, Quan San-lin, Wong U-chiu, Hugo de Lacerda, the Harbour Master, Quan Iec-siu, A. Silver (Sahator for Macao), Leong Ten-fai, Damiao Rodrigues (President of the Town Hall), Capt. Inso and Choi Anok.

Various proposals were suggested, and it was agreed to order from England a safety buoy and other equipment, to the total cost of about $200,000. Other proposals were also dealt with, mainly on the suggestion of Mr. Pures da Rocha, who recently returned from Portugal. A series of bazars is to be held to meet the cost of the schemes, and if insufficient money is forthcoming from this source the balance will be contributed by the Portuguese and Chinese communities.

WEEK-END MISHAPS.

COLLISION BETWEEN CAR AND MOTOR CYCLE.

When Mrs. Pooley, wife of Mr. Pooley, of the Green Island Cement Works, was driving a car in Chatham Road, a collision accidentally occurred with motor cycle No. 331, which was being ridden by Mr. W. Taylor, of the China Light and Power Company. No-one was injured.

Mr. Montague, of 8, Bowen Road, was riding along the Shau-kiwan Road yesterday at about one o'clock in motor car No. 1179. When near the Hongkong Yacht Club, the car accidentally knocked down a Chinese girl, about eight years of age. She was taken in the car to the French Hospital, but was later removed to the Government Civil Hospital.

PIRATES FIGHT WITH PICKETS.

A BATTLE BETWEEN ARMED LAUNCHES.

SEIZED VESSELS RETAKEN.

A rather sensational report of an engagement between armed pirate launches and picket launches in the waters of the Heungshan district is to hand.

It is stated that the pirates of the Kwangtung Tong, under Yuen Kung, their chief, have been exporting produce with great success, and the pickets, having obtained armed launches, have been endeavouring to intercept this traffic. Eventually, the pickets made a haul of eleven junks, large and small, fully laden with produce of all kinds.

Yuen Kung, the pirate chief, is said to have later offered the pickets a certain sum of money for the release of these junks, which the pickets refused.

In the meantime, however, the pirates had gathered a fleet of launches and attacked the picket boats, with the result that the pickets were defeated and the seized junks fell into the hands of the pirates. It is said that 20 pickets were made captives, while the rest were killed.

ARRESTED IN COURT.

SURPRISE FOR CHINESE SEPTUAGENARIAN.

A Chinese paid an expensive visit to the Police Court this morning. He was sitting in the rear of the Court during the hearing of a case in which two women were charged with being in unlawful possession of 385 catties of camphor wood in the Shaukiwan district, when he was identified as a man who had run away from the spot when the arrests were effected.

He was arrested and charged, but his excuse that he had nothing to do with the case, and that his identity had been mistaken were not accepted after evidence had been given.

He was fined $75 or six weeks. Dealing with the women, Sub-Inspector Clark said that since the arrests, the three-year-old daughter of the second defendant had fallen from the verandah of the first floor of the house she lived in, and was in a serious condition in hospital. He had allowed the woman to visit the girl in the custody of a constable.

Mr. Green, of the Forestry Department, who prosecuted, said that in view of these circumstances he would like the Magistrate to take a merciful view of the case.

Mr. Lindsell imposed a fine of $15.

The first woman was found to have been fined $50 for a similar offence only six months ago, and she was now fined $100 or eight weeks.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

FIGHT WITH RICKSHA COOLIE.

A case of highway robbery was reported yesterday by a licensed ricksha coolie, who informed the police that at about 11.45 last night a Chinese engaged his ricksha at the Wing Lok Wharf, and asked him to drive to Shek Tong Tsui. When they were near Water Street, the ricksha was stopped by four men, who, with the help of the passenger, assaulted him, and stole $1 from his pocket. They then ran away up Water Street. One of the men was caught by a District Watchman who was in the vicinity, and two others have been arrested.

FAKED PIRACY?

SUSPICIOUS FACTORS DETAILED.

CONSIGNOR'S $4,000 CLAIM.

Allegations that an "arranged" piracy accounted for the loss of a valuable cargo, coupled with the further plea that, if there had been a piracy, it was the result of a deviation from the contract route, formed the basis of a claim in the Supreme Court before Sir Henry Gollan, when an export firm claimed for $4,117, damages for breach of agreement to carry goods from Hongkong to Hoiping.

Mr. H. G. Sheldon appeared for the plaintiff, and the defendant, Lai Kwong, was represented by Mr. H. S. Fitzroy.

In opening, Mr. Sheldon said that arrangements were made between the parties through an agent, Leung kut-cho, of the Kwong Hing firm, to carry the goods by a junk with the registered number T4592H.

NO SUPERCARGO.

He spoke of the various arrangements and said that there was a verbal agreement that the junk was not to leave without informing the consignor in order that he might insure the goods, and also put on board a supercargo. This was not done and the next news Kong Wing, the managing partner of the plaintiff firm, had of the junk was conveyed to him by Lai Kwong, who went into graphic details of a piracy.

It was part of the case for the defence that the defendant was not the owner of the junk, but Mr. Sheldon pointed out that when Lai Kwong made a report of the piracy to the police, he described himself as the junior partner, and stated that his father had been kidnapped.

SUSPICIOUS INCIDENTS.

Pointing reasons for the suspicion that the piracy was a fake, Mr. Sheldon said that it was agreed that the junk should be towed by the launch of the Kwong Lee firm, whereas defendants went away towed by a self-supplied junk, and further, evidence would be called that the junk was seen two hours after the time the alleged piracy was supposed to have occurred and nothing then appeared to be wrong.

The defendant had reported that the junk was pirated on October 17th at 2 a.m., off Kachau by an overtaking launch with some fifty armed men on board. The junk was said to have been taken in tow; the cargo unloaded, a task which took two days; Lai Tong, the senior partner, was held; and the junk released. The piracy was reported on October 27th.

WARNING IGNORED.

Kong Wing, in the box, said that his share of the cargo was valued at $3,735.74, and he also claimed for the return of $290 Hongkong currency which he had paid on account of freight and customs duties. The junk left without his knowledge though he had previously spoken to Lai Kwong, had informed him that he (witness) had received a letter from Hoiping pointing out the illegal activities of the strike pickets, and had warned him not to start until he gave the word.

He had no chance of insuring his property, and no supercargo was put on board. He wanted to put a supercargo on board because the junk was supposed to call at other places in the course of the trip.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fitzroy, witness said that Lai Kwong told him that he was the owner, and replied that he had not employed the junk before when asked whether he always enquired for the captain when exporting into Chinese waters.

THE CASE IS PROCEEDING.

A Reuter's message from Tokyo to hand this afternoon says it is reported that it has been decided to quarantine all ships from Hongkong, owing to cholera.

CANTON KEROSENE MONOPOLY.

SWATOW MERCHANTS SEEK ABOLITION.

REPORTS OF CORRUPTION.

A Canton journal says that "the adoption of the plan of a kerosene monopoly by the Canton Government is really a scheme to augment the national revenue on the one hand, while on the other hand to defeat the resistance to pay tax by the Asiatic and Standard Oil Petroleum Companies," but the merchants who contracted the monopoly in various places have been found to be very corrupt; hence many requests have been received by the Government to abolish the monopoly scheme. Recently, the Swatow Merchants Federation petitioned the Government to abolish the monopoly sale of kerosene oil. The telegram reads as follows:—

"Kerosene" monopoly is nothing but a means to boycott the foreign imported oil, and to augment the national revenue; but the merchants, who contracted the sale, caused the price making the living condition of the people extremely difficult. The scheme with the aim of increasing national income has become an hindrance to the people. We hope that the government will take into consideration public opinion and the sufferings of the people and abolish the monopoly at once, and abide by the principle of national tax to up-keep the revenue as well as to release the public from undue suffering."

CAPT. LORIGA'S PLANS.

MAY FLY BACK TO SPAIN.

Captain Joaquin Loriga of the Madrid to Manila fight may fly back to Spain, says the Manila Bulletin.

Should weather conditions prevailing over the China Sea prevent his proposed flight from Tin-pak to Manila, it is understood that the Spanish aviator will fly back to Madrid, following the same route taken in flying from Madrid.

Orders received by Captain Gallarza ordering him to return to Spain via the first steamer that left the Philippines, did not include Captain Loriga. The Spanish government, upon the request of Captain Loriga, granted him authority to use his discretion as to returning to Spain.

Captain Loriga, however, is pessimistic regarding the possibility of either flying from Tin-pak to Manila or flying back to Spain, due to the uncertainty of whether sufficient material has been shipped from Calcutta to repair his plane. Although he has been notified that the new motor will arrive in Macao at the end of this month, he believes that other necessary spare parts were not shipped.

Capt. Loriga has gone to Macao by the Portuguese cruiser Republica from Manila.

DISASTROUS STORM.

A BURMA CATASTROPHE.

Rangoon, May 30. Devastation followed in the wake of a disastrous storm on the Arakan coast, which burst on both sides of the Maya mountains, causing a tidal wave on the Nadd River, inundating the country and wiping out whole villages. Twelve hundred deaths have been reported up to the present.—Reuter.

JUDGE'S ORDER.

MADE WITH SOME RELUCTANCE.

A RESTAURANT CASE.

Recently, in pursuance of an application from the landlord of the premises, who claimed that the Restaurant was behind in its payment of rents, the furniture and effects of the Nam King Restaurant were seized by the bailiff, acting under a warrant of distraint which had been granted.

The landlord will now have to turn over the property in question to another party, this being the Bank of Canton, Limited, which has successfully claimed, by the production of a deed of mortgage affecting the property, that they are the owners.

JUDGE'S RELUCTANCE.

In a lengthy judgment given of the case this morning, Mr. Justice Wood stated that he allows this claim with some reluctance, as it seems to him that the landlord is being penalised for having shown an exemplary patience at a period of commercial depression. The facts showed that before the Lee Shing Company who are the landlords had recourse to calling in the bailiff to protect their interests, the property had already passed into the ownership of another party by the assignment of a mortgage deed.

THE FACTS.

These proceedings were taken by the Bank of Canton under the Distress for Rent Ordinance, 1833, section 21. The relevant portions of this section are as follows:—"Any person alleging himself to be the owner of any property seized under this Ordinance may" (after certain formalities "apply to the Court, to release the distraint article and the Court may release such article according to such terms as it may think just."

Mr. Justice Wood said:—"The circumstances are as follows:—The debtor from whom rent is claimed is a limited company, the Nam King Restaurant, Limited. On the 8th May last, this Company, owing arrears on rent for ten months, suggested payment on account. The arrears amounted altogether to $27,085. For this amount the warrant of distress was duly issued. The warrant was executed on the 10th May. In pursuance of the warrant, the bailiff of the Court seized moveable property found on the premises mentioned in the warrant and in the apparent possession of the debtor, with the furniture, fittings and other effects in use by the defendant company, on the restaurant premises. All the goods seized under the warrant are now claimed by the Bank of Canton, who alleges itself to be the owner of them.

FORMER PRACTICE FOLLOWED.

"Under section 21, it has been the practice of the Court to release from distraint in the absence of good cause shown to the contrary, articles found to be in the ownership of a person other than the debtor." This practice was proved in formal judgment delivered by me on the 27th May, 1923.

"In this Court, under Distraint No. 124, of 1923, from which judgment no appeal was entered, I propose therefore to follow the practice which was adopted in that case.

"In order to obtain the release of articles which have been seized, the claimant must show that it is the owner within the meaning of that word as used in that section. It appears that the defendant company, on the 14th April last executed an assignment to the claimant by means of a deed, affecting all the property which is now seized under the distraint warrant. This deed was produced to the Re- (Continued on Page 15).

LATE SIR PAUL CHATER.

SERMON BY THE REV.
G. R. LINDSAY.

Feeling references to the late Sir Paul Chater were made by the Rev. G. Reginald Lindsay, M. A., in his sermon at the memorial service at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon yesterday morning.

Reference was made to the late Sir Paul's manifold activities in the Colony and he was described as the greatest man Hongkong has known.

There was a large congregation, and suitable prayers were read by the Rt. Rev. C. R. Duppy, Bishop of Victoria.

Taking his text from Romans 8:38, "For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord," Mr. Lindsay said a man through his long history had discovered many secrets but death held its secret still.

It could only be solved by dying and yet.

"Still amid the darkness I feel that light is near,

And in the awful silence God's voice I seem to hear."

The hope of a future life was at the heart of all religion. Men had always asked for certainty that there was a life to come. Only that would satisfy the human heart. Men who had looked at this problem from very different standpoints had almost universally agreed that the grave could not be the grand finale of lovely childhood, or splendid old age.

Hopes of Future Life.

It could not be believed that man, endowed with gifts of reason, intelligence, love and conscience, could at the last be snuffed out like a candle, for that would mean God would mock man at the last. Man had felt that life must be continued after this, for had not all men had set before them ideals to which they knew they could never attain fully in this life?

Even so far back as Plato, that great philosopher based his hopes on future life on the ground of what man was. The Old Testament Saints based their hopes, not on what they knew of man, but of what they knew of God. They felt that because God was, man could never perish. There was a real fellowship between God and man, and this led the Jews to believe in the immortality of the soul.

He thought it was unthinkable that God had simply called man to live him and then cast him as rubbish to the void.

A Great Man.

We are remembering the passing of the greatest man this Colony has known. If greatness consists of generous services to others, then Sir Paul Chater was a great man.

The Press during last week has spoken eloquently of his manifold activities for the benefit and development of this Colony, of which he was one of the principal creators. As one reads the account of his long life, suffering so early the heavy handicap of being both fatherless and motherless, one was simply amazed at the triumph of his genius, energy and vision.

Kowloon will for ever be a monument to his name. His benefactions were prodigious in their lavishness and yet, always thoughtful. Sir Paul considered his gifts, but once convinced of a need there were no limits to his generosity.

A list was given of his public donations during the last six years

NIZAM'S GENEROSITY.

TO REPAIR MECCA'S
DAMAGED MOSQUES.

Madras, May 29.

The Nizam of Hyderabad has undertaken to repair at his own expense the mosques of Mecca but these represent but a tithe of his giving. He gave one of $84,000 last year which was not in the list and there were also many others. He was always giving, and he did so of good purpose.

Too Humble to Claim Perfection.

During the last few years he said himself that he had amassed great wealth and that he desired others to benefit.

One thing that impressed me was his anxiety to discover anything or anybody he might be able to help, and more than once I have made inquiries for him at his own request.

He loved this little church, and despite his advanced age and the journey from the Peak, was always in his place on Sunday no matter what weather and entered reverently into the service.

His generosity here is too well known to need comment. His gifts were nearly always entirely unsolicited and he gave freely never imposing restrictions and conditions.

Sir Paul could not escape the seemingly inevitable suspicion of ulterior motives which surround all wealthy men who give generously. He knew what people said but he was not deterred in continuing his wonderful public service to the last.

Sir Paul Chater was too honest and too humble a man to claim perfection. He continually confessed his failures; spiritual standards had not always been recognised, but God did a work of grace in his heart, particularly in his later years, and he knew the unspeakable serenity of spirit which comes from being forgiven.

Simple and Earnest Prayers.

I shall never forget, as one whose privilege it was to minister to him during his last illness, hearing Sir Paul pray simply and earnestly for himself and for others. His prayers were replete of a very bright hope and trust in his Saviour.

As his physical weakness increased his spiritual faculties seemed to grow stronger, and a few hours before the end after whispering Psalm 23, I bent down to catch his words and heard him repeating "Thou art with me."

About mid-day he lapsed into unconsciousness and we thought all was over, but at about eight o'clock God in His mercy gave him strength to rally to say good-bye to his wife, praying for her and blessing her. And so he passed again into unconsciousness.

A few hours later his spirit returned to the God who gave it. And while we weep this morning with those that weep, we rejoice with him who this day rejoices in the presence of the King.

AMERICAN RACING SENSATION.

GAMBLERS WHO "CROCKED"
FOUR HORSES.

Aurora, Ill., May 29.

The death of the well-known thoroughbred "Apology" and the serious illness of three other racehorses, resulting from poison given them in sugar, has revealed an attempted gambling coup, involving large sums of money. Two alleged gamblers have been arrested and it is reported, have confessed they gave the animals sugar and implicated three other men. Owing to the mishap to the four horses the principal race at Exposition Park yesterday was cancelled. An angry crowd of bookmakers and racehorse owners surrounded the Police Station expressing indignation at the action of the swindlers. Investigations are alleged to show that after the four horses were put out of the race only three remained of which the gamblers selected one to be winner. They informed their accomplices of the name of the horse by code telegrams, copies of which the Police found in their possession.—Routier's American Service.

YOUNG ITALY.

HER DEMAND FOR A
"PLACE IN THE SUN."

Rome, May 29.

"A place in the sun" for Italy was demanded by Mussolini in a speech in the Senate in the course of a debate on the estimates for the Foreign Ministry. He declared that Italian imperialism was the demonstration of the dignity of the Italian people. Above all moral dignity there existed a need for economic and intellectual expansion for the nation which had "arrived" a little late. "When a nation enters on the scene where everybody else had taken his place it causes a certain amount of uneasiness. The unexpected guest is not always welcome. One hears honeyed words about international solidarity, the fraternity of peoples and the equality of international relations. These are fine words but its reality very different in real life. No nation follows an internationalist policy, and in the policy of fraternity all nations erect formidable barriers which for the moment are only economic and political, even the nations with liberal traditions hastily consigning them to the oblivion of the tomb."

Not Aggressive.

Mussolini declared that Italian imperialism was not of the aggressive or explosive character which led to war. The Fascist government following it could only follow a policy of peace, but the desire for peace did not connote disarmament.

Disarmament must be total otherwise it would be a sorry comedy. It must be total on sea, on land and in the air. There could not be a disarmament solely on land while naval armaments were maintained, or on land and sea when aerial armaments were permitted.

Cannot Disarm.

Until all States effectively disarmed themselves Italy could not disarm without running the risk of losing her independence and liberty by committing suicide.

Young Italy must find its place in the sun. He believed it would be able to do so gently when the time came. He believed Italy's allies in the war would decide to meet her legitimate claim, but emphasised that nothing be given to anybody until Italy was satisfied. Italy had no intention of giving up her formidable weapon of veto in the League of Nations.—Routier.

SECRETS OF THE SPHINX REVEALED.—A number of discoveries were made during the excavation and repair of the famous Sphinx at Giza, which had been in danger of collapse. When the accumulation of sand at the base was removed the massive paws were revealed, together with the old Roman altar and a tablet with an inscription. Our picture shows a front view of the Sphinx as it is today. (Times copyright.)

NURSERY GAMES—JUNGLE STYLE!—"Jimmy" and "Pongo," baby orang-utans at the London zoo, are enjoying a romp. It looks ferocious, and it sounded worse, but it really was all in the best of fun.

CALCUTTA RIOTS.—Many people were killed and injured in the recent communal riotings in Calcutta. Mosques and temples were attacked by Hindus and Moslems, who carried the fighting into the streets. There has been a recrudescence of the trouble in the past two or three days. Our picture shows Hindus removing debris from the Siva Temple after a conflict. (Times copyright.)

MR. ORMSBY-GORE IN NIGERIA.—Mr. W. G. A. Ormsby-Gore, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, with the Alake of Abeokuta, Nigeria, during his recent colonial tour. (Times copyright.)

BUILT "NORGE."—Col. Umberto Nobile of Italy, is designer and commander of the Amundsen airship, "Norge" which has flown over the North Pole.

CHAIR OF SPANISH.

COMMEMORATION OF THE PRINCE'S TOUR.

An amount of £25,000 is required for the establishment at Oxford University of a King Alfonso XIII. Chair of Spanish, to commemorate the Prince of Wales's South American tour.

The committee have now addressed an appeal to the public, and in the list of those who have already sent in subscriptions appears the name of Sir Charles Wakefield with a contribution of £1,000.

The movement has the active support of the Prince of Wales, who has publicly referred to the matter on more than one occasion.

"We are of the opinion," the committee write in their appeal to the public, "that there is no more fitting and practical method of showing how greatly we appreciate the Prince's efforts to further British interests in South America than by assisting this movement, which he has so much at heart."

"We hope, therefore, that you will contribute promptly and generously to the fund, as it is desired to inaugurate the chair on the occasion of the approaching visit to this country of their Majesties the King and Queen of Spain."

There are about 800 of them, and one discovers that at least three-quarters of them are children!

Boys and girls in about equal numbers, these youthful workers range from little children of six or seven to youngsters of perhaps 14 or 15.

Arabs all recruited from native villages in the neighbourhood, they constitute about as picturesque a rabble as one could find. All their heads are turbaned, and they wear flowing robes of different hues, black and white predominating. Here and there I noticed one clad in an old khaki tunic, coming down almost to its small wearer's heels.

These children assemble every morning at 6 and start work at 7. At noon they stop for an hour, and then carry on until 4.30.

They work in gangs, each under an overseer armed with a big whip, which he frequently brandishes threateningly, but seldom, if ever, uses in earnest. Or so I was assured.

Anyhow, the youngsters seem happy enough; the way they sing as they work is evidence enough of that.

Each gang, it appears, has a specially hired singer, generally a small boy. With a finger in one ear and a highly-pitched voice, this youngster continually chants some phrase with a special significance for the youthful Arab.

A popular one was "Dia Maloo ala halo!"—translated to me as "He spent all his money on himself."

This phrase, chanted by the hired minstrel, is repeated in chorus by all the little hired workers composing each "gang," as they file down into the pit with their empty baskets, or stream out again carrying them filled with sand.

These youngsters are paid at the lordly rate of from 8d. to 1s. a day. The sand they bring out in their little baskets is poured into trucks, which, when filled, are pushed along a small gauge railway, and emptied at a spot farther along on the eastern side of the Pyramid plateau.

It is planned, when the excavation has been completed, to build a containing wall all round the Sphinx to prevent the sand from covering it again.

It would be impossible, I was informed, to prevent the winds each winter from depositing a certain amount of sand.

Once the wall has been built, however, the annual removal of this amount of wind-blown sand will be a comparatively trifling business.

Forty years have passed since the last previous, and only partial, excavation of the Sphinx.

CLEARING THE SPHINX.

HOW THE DESERT ENCROACHED.

"As the result of six months' labour," said an official of the Egyptian Government to The Daily Chronicle Special Correspondent, "future visitors to Egypt will have a more complete view of the mysterious old monument than has been obtainable for perhaps 4,000 years."

Sand that had engulfed all but the head, shoulders and part of the mammoth figure that is supposed to represent the Sun-God, Harmachis, has been cleared away.

For the first time since the period of the Ptolemys, says the Cairo correspondent, the Sphinx has been completely excavated—perhaps, indeed, since the XVIIIth Dynasty, roughly 1700 years B.C.

The work of excavation and restoration is of great romantic interest and immense archaeological value.

That it has attracted comparatively little attention is probably due to the greater glamour of other recent events in the Land of the Pharaohs, notably the removal of Tutankhamen from his inner coffin of pure gold, and the discovery by the Harvard-Boston Expedition of another Royal tomb, only about a quarter of a mile away from the Sphinx, that is now believed to be that of the mighty monarch Seneferu.

Older, perhaps, even than the Pyramids, the "Sphinx-as," as the natives call him, was hewn out of the natural rock. With added blocks of stone, he was moulded into the shape of a couchant lion, with the head of a king wearing the royal headcloth, adorned with the royal serpent.

Exactly who did this mighty work, or when, nobody has ever been able to determine. But whoever did also guarded away the rock on both sides of the Sphinx, thus leaving him in a kind of pit, below the level of the surrounding desert.

It wasn't foreseen, apparently, that the wind-blown sand from the desert would fill this pit, and gradually bury the monument itself; but this is what has been happening during all the thousands of years since.

It was about a peevish camel, infelicitously named "Glady," that I realised the dream of years, and rode to the Sphinx along the sandy waste that slopes downward from the rock-plateau on which the near-by Pyramids stand. I had been told that an interesting sight awaited me, and it certainly was an animated and colourful one that I beheld.

With a thrill one's eye first takes in the details of the impressive figure, its face battered alike by time and by man. Around it an army of workers are swarming.

Then, suddenly, the sound of singing reaches one's ears.

As one approaches nearer, it becomes evident that this proceeds from an apparently endless procession of quaintly garbed humanity that files, ant-fashion, down a wooden incline into the pit that surrounds the Sphinx—that circles the monster—and then pours upward in a steady stream on the other side.

These are the workers that are primitively engaged in carrying (in baskets which, when filled, they bear on their heads) the sand that is steadily being dug away from the sides of the Sphinx.

There are about 800 of them, and one discovers that at least three-quarters of them are children!

Boys and girls in about equal numbers, these youthful workers range from little children of six or seven to youngsters of perhaps 14 or 15.

Arabs all recruited from native villages in the neighbourhood, they constitute about as picturesque a rabble as one could find. All their heads are turbaned

THE COAL STOPPAGE.

STATE OF EMERGENCY
DECLARED AGAIN.

The Public's Charity.

London, May 29.
A Royal Proclamation is gazetted declaring a continuance of the state of emergency owing to the

Government to Import Coal.

London, May 30.
The Sunday Times political correspondent states that in the event of the mining deadlock continuing the Government will arrange to import and distribute coal for the industries which are now threatened with paralysis.
No difficulty is expected so far as the Railwaymen's unions are concerned.

Prince Helps Miners' Wives.

Practical help for the miners is coming from many quarters, but the most unexpected has been a donation of ten guineas for the distress fund for wives and children of the Somerset miners by the Prince of Wales from his Duchy of Cornwall office. The accompanying letter says "His Highness naturally cannot take any sides in any dispute but we all owe a debt to the miners in the past and everyone feels sympathy for their wives and children in their hour of distress.
Further it would be an undesirable and in any dispute that one side should have given in on account of the suffering of their dependents."

Albert Hall Demonstration.

The Prince of Wales' letter expresses confidence that with goodwill on either side there will be a happy issue out of the present difficulties. The Prince is a coalowner in Somerset.

The extraordinary response to the collection for the miners' dependents is shown by a demonstration at the Albert Hall by organised Labour interests where rarely seen sovereign and half-sovereigns were sent up to the platform. Some were sold for three and four times their face value. Several rings and watches were given. One ring is valued at £80. The collection greatly exceeded £1,000, apart from the jewels.

Further Russian Help.

The official Tass agency announces that the general council of Soviet Trade Unions has transferred a further 400,000 roubles through to the British Miners Federation on account of further collections from workers.—Reuter.

BANNED JOURNALIST.

THE REASON.

London, May 30.
The reason for the Free State's request to Britain to exclude Mr.
Russell, unless the latter undertook not to visit the Free State is explained by the secretary of the Free State Ministry of Justice to be the outcome of the arrest of a man arriving at Queenstown from America last month, possessing documents allegedly addressed to republican leaders. It stated that Russell's name appeared therein. The man was arrested and is at present awaiting trial for treason.

A Paris message says Russell expresses ignorance of the exact reason he was not allowed to land at Plymouth, and regrets the ban prevented him meeting his wife and son in England.—Reuter.

NON-STOP FLIGHT.

DUTCH AVIATOR'S
ACHIEVEMENT.

Rotterdam to Marseilles.

Marseilles, May 29.
A remarkable non-stop flight has been accomplished by the Dutch aeroplane which started from Rotterdam at 3.30 in the morning carrying Dutch East Indies' mail.

It landed at Marseilles at ten and caught the s.s. Indrapoera, which sailed at noon.—Reuter.

POLYTECHNIC MARATHON.

London, May 29.
Viscount Lascelles to-day started 58 competitors in the Polytechnic Harriers annual open Marathon race from Windsor to Stamford Bridge, Chelsea, a distance of 26 miles, 385 yards.

the Air Force, Ashbridge, time,

PORTUGUESE REVOLT.

THE GOVERNMENT QUILTS.

Lisbon, May 29.
The leaders of the insurgents have called on the President of the Republic to establish an Extra-Parliamentary Government and to summon the leaders of all political parties. A Government communique declares that complete order reigns all over the country and that the seditious movement is confined to some elements of a division stationed at Braga and commanded by General Gomez da Costa. Columns have been organised at Oporto, commanded by General Perce.—Reuter.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

12,000,000 ROUBLES DAMAGE.

Moscow, May 29.
Damage to the extent of twelve million roubles in three days has been caused by a fire in the town of Kotel'nich in Viatka department. Seven are dead and many, mostly children, are missing. All Government buildings, banks and the telephone and electric stations, libraries, schools and churches were burned.—Reuter.

NOTABLE WEDDING.

POLITICAL INTEREST IN WASHINGTON CEREMONY.

Washington, May 29.
One of the most notable weddings in the history of the Capital took place to-day when Ailsa, daughter of Secretary Mellon was married

QUEEN OF QUEENS.

MOTHER OF THE FATHER OF
THE PYRAMIDS.

Since the last communique of the Harvard Boston Expedition on the Fourth Dynasty tomb discovered near the Great Pyramid in March last year, the members of the expedition have worked on the mass of inlays, in the intact
Royal tomb at Gizeh.

Early in March the presence was noted of solid gold hieroglyphs set in ebony adorning the upright back of a chair.
Hieroglyphs in four lines form an inscription giving the titles of a queen who was a king's mother, a king's wife and a king's daughter.

The ends of all four lines, however, were obscured by decayed wood and displaced inlays.

On April 14 the ends of two lines were read, and the name of the Queen buried in the alabaster sarcophagus was found to be "Hetepetheres."

She was probably the mother of Cheops (of "Great Pyramid" fame), was one of the Queens of Senefru, and was the daughter of Huni, the immediate predecessor of Senefru.

She was one of the old royal family of the Third Dynasty, and it was clearly on her hereditary right that the Kings of the Fourth Dynasty founded their claim to the Throne.

The eldest daughter of Cheops was also "Hetepetheres," so called, doubtless, after her grandmother.

This later "Hetepetheres" was married to the great noble Ankhnef, and is buried with her husband in the largest of the known mastabas (tombs) of the Old Kingdom, about 100 yards to the east of the tomb of her grandmother, Queen Hetepetheres.

A young woman barrister, Miss Mary Reccelli, pleaded in the Domestic Relations Court at Atlantic City, U.S.A., on behalf of her mother, in an application for alimony. The daughter told how her father had left her mother nineteen times. "But mother's eyes always brought him back until this last time" she declared.
The daughter was awarded a verdict.

DAIRY FARM MILK

A GUARANTEE

Our fresh milk is guaranteed The Purest in the Far East. It is also unsurpassed in Richness. If the milk of some of the native dairies shows a heavier cream line than ours, do not imagine that it is richer.
—It is certainly not purer. Every ounce of milk produced at our Farms is thoroughly filtered and clarified before being bottled. These processes plus the process of refrigeration which immediately follows, have a decided tendency to disturb the normal condition of the fat globules, which consequently prevents a great number of these globules from rising to the surface
—hence a thinner cream line than in milk which has not gone through a cleansing process.
The cream is there all the same, but a large portion of it remains in the body of the milk.
Clarification is now the recognised method by which milk can be thoroughly cleansed and freed of all impurities. All the world's leading dairies clarify for Purity.
Those who realise how important Clean, Pure, Rich
Milk is to Health should use DAIRY FARM

PEAK TRANSPORT
NEEDS.

The Chairman of the Peak Tramways Company, at the annual meeting of shareholders held on Friday last, referred to what he described as a popular fallacy—namely, that the Peak had made the Peak Tramway. So far from that being the case, he claimed that the opposite was the truth. There would appear to be justice in the viewpoint put forward, for as Mr. Humphreys took pains to point out, there were very few houses and no hotels on the Peak when the line was first opened. As compared with those days, the Peak district is now freely scattered with houses, and so great has been the growth of the population there that with the passing years the Tramway Company has had to devise special means of coping with the traffic over its line. Even now, the crush of traffic during certain hours is extremely heavy, and considerable expenditure is being incurred in the provision of new and larger trams in order to relieve the pressure. It might be said for the Company that in recent years especially it has followed a most progressive forward policy in catering to public needs. True, this is to the benefit of the Company as well as to the public, but it is only right and proper that there should be some reward for the enterprise shown.

Gratifying as the improvements and extensions of the service have been, we are still of the opinion that a new line to serve outlying districts will eventually have to be laid down. In recent years, there has been a very considerable spreading out of the residential district on the upper levels, especially in the eastern portion of the Peak, which is not too well served by the existing line. Considerable sums have been spent by the Government in opening up the Mount Cameron district, and whilst it is true that several lots have already been taken up, we are convinced that the provision of better transport facilities would result in this locality being far more greatly developed than it is at present. This, in the long run, would be to the mutual benefit both of the Government and the company undertaking the construction of any new line laid down. In this connection, there is much to be said for the suggestion put forward at last Friday's meeting that the Government might help the Company by guaranteeing a dividend for a certain number of years. After all, in matters of public utility it does not seem reasonable that the whole brunt of new enterprises should be borne by the companies initiating them, especially in cases where, as the result of such enterprise, the Government eventually stands to benefit. As Mr. Humphreys pointed out on Friday, the Peak Tramways Company had a hard struggle in its early days, being unable to pay any dividend for several years. Naturally, in any new scheme put forward, it is anxious that that experience should not be repeated.

The position as we see it is that there is a distinct need for a new tramway line, which could be so devised as to open up quite a number of residential spots; that the Tramway Company is prepared to undertake the scheme; but that it looks to the Government for assistance. Seeing that it is part of the Government's duty to encourage public utilities, for the common weal, the plea for aid seems quite reasonable. There is, moreover, precedent for guaranteeing dividends in the agreement recently made between the Government and the Telephone Company. With the facts thus, it is time the protracted negotiations between the Government and the Peak Tramway Company were brought to a head, and if some such arrangement as Mr. Humphreys has suggested could be come to, we see no reason why the project should not be put in hand without delay, in readiness for the better days which we all believe to lie ahead.

Gloomy Coal Outlook.

It would seem as though the coal mining dispute at Home is going to be settled by the costliest route, after all—that of the economic exhaustion of either one side or the other. Millions of pounds sterling have been spent throughout the past winter in the hope of avoiding a prolonged conflict, but it has not availed. The foolishly-called general strike did not avail, either, to bring the coal owners and the miners nearer to agreement, and a really generous scheme lately proposed by the Premier has been turned down by both sides. We were not so very surprised to find that the scheme was rejected by the miners because they have, all along, taken up an adamant attitude on the question of a wages reduction and one of the main proposals of the Premier included a temporary reduction. But we were surprised to find that the owners turned down the scheme, because by so doing they have left the Government without a leg to stand on and without any power of bargaining with the men. With both sides taking up a stand antagonistic to the Government's proposals, it is only natural that the Government has, for the moment at any rate, withdrawn from the field as a negotiator and left the two camps free to stand the wear and tear of a stoppage. The costliness of this procedure to the nation might be well-nigh incalculable, entailing as it does such a tremendous interference with industry and such a loss of output. There is much sympathy being shown for the miners in the distress which they are suffering but it would seem that they are, at present, in

MANILA BUDGET.

A BIG CASH SURPLUS.

A cash surplus amounting to P23,000,000 available for expenditure at the end of the year, substantial improvements in general conditions in the Philippine Islands, and a P45,000,000 increase in the value of the six leading crops of the islands, are mentioned in Governor General Wood's annual report for 1925 as summarized in a cable sent to the Secretary of War May 20.

Governor General Wood states that he has received cordial co-operation from insular and local officials. He also says that the people are contented and happy, undisturbed by political propaganda from Manila.

I submit the following brief summary of my 1925 report, which will be forwarded in the near future and request it be given to the press. Its publication will correct much misleading information and propaganda which are being circulated in the United States.

Financial statements made herein are submitted by both insular auditor and secretary of finance. During the year I visited all parts of archipelago, found everywhere contented and happy people living under steadily improving conditions, undisturbed by political propaganda from Manila. Public order excellent, public health conditions satisfactory, taxes better paid than ever before, revenues increasing, business conditions steadily improving, estimated increase in value of the six leading crops over that of 1924 forty-five million pesos, no serious epidemic among men or animals during the year, except brief outbreak of cholera coincident with outbreaks in Shanghai and Japan. Epidemic was promptly brought under control.

Have received cordial co-operation from insular, provincial, and municipal officials throughout the islands and from the people as a whole. There were very few applications for remission of taxes and no applications for government aid on account of typhoons, floods or other disasters.

There was marked improvement in spirit of self-helpfulness, no extensive losses of crops, locust damages much less than previous years, excess of revenues over expenditures for 1925 was 11,509,000 pesos as compared with 8,171,000 for 1924 and revenues for 1925 exceeded those for 1924 by 5,317,000 pesos while the expenditures were less than those of 1924 by 1,979,000.

At the end of the year there was a cash surplus of twenty-three million pesos available for expenditure. If to this cash surplus were added accounts receivable, funds in the hands of disbursing officers and value of current supplies and materials in the hands of purchasing agent, the total surplus would be approximately 45,000,000 pesos.

The Legislature enacted considerable amount of valuable legislation, passed the budget without substantial change, made appropriations for various improvements, public works and other purposes and confirmed great majority of appointments.

General and financial conditions at the end of the year very satisfactory.

Four men, armed with daggers, are alleged to have entered the house of a married Chinese woman, at 10, Tai Ku Ling, and stolen $165 in Hongkong notes. The woman has made a report of the theft to the police.

The body of an unknown Chinese, about thirty years of age, has been taken to the Kowloon Mortuary. He was found in the water by the "Star" Ferry wharf. There are no suspicious circumstances.

The Very Idea!

A youth put in an appearance at an emigration bureau, and intimated, to the accompaniment of a chewing movement of his jaws, that he desired to go to the Dominions.

Still the boy looked dense, as the official said, "I mean, what are you doing just now?"

The answer came immediately. "I'm catin' a caramell!"

"Very dirty, and if you meddle with them you'll foul your fingers." Much of his Budget speech was devoted by Mr. Robinson, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, to answering the points made by Scott in his "Malagrowther" Letters, the Chancellor declaring that he refused to be scared by "the flashing of the Highland claymore, though evoked from its scabbard by the incantations of the first magician of the age."

DOCTOR ROBBED.

CHINESE STEALS FROM HIS BENEFACITOR.

Despite efforts made by Doctor F. Kew, of 47, Wong Nei Chong Road, to make him into an honest boy, a Chinese did not take advantage of the kindness shown him with the result that he was brought up before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy this morning, following a number of valuable articles being missed from the house. He was charged with the theft of one gold-plated alarm clock, one gold wrist watch, one gold chain, one gold tongue-scraper, and a felt hat, the total value of the articles being $115.

Dr. Kew said the boy was employed by him, but he had been in trouble before. Witness had employed him and treated him very kindly, given him clothes, money, and rides in his car. He did a lot for the defendant to make him good, but it was quite useless. Although he had no direct evidence to connect the defendant with the theft he had missed other things. The boy left in January, 1925, and it was impossible for anyone else to gain admittance to the house because of his dogs. It would appear that the defendant, being familiar with the animals and the house, entered it and stole the articles. He suggested that the boy should be flogged and banished, as it would be useless sending him to gaol.

Mr. Lindsell said flogging was not provided for such offences. Sert. Rozesky said the defendant was arrested in a tea shop, with the wrist watch and the tongue-scraper, which had been converted into a bangle. The defendant was sent to prison for six months.

PORTUGUESE REVOLUTION.SPREAD THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

Paris, May 30.

A message from Lisbon says that the revolutionary movement, in which the Lisbon and Oporto troops have joined, is now spread throughout the whole country.—Reuter.

[There have been several minor revolutionary movements in Portugal in recent years. Until 1910, Portugal was a monarchy, but in October of that year a Republic was proclaimed, after a short revolution; and King Manuel II, who had succeeded to the throne on the assassination of his father and elder brother two years earlier, fled the country. He has since resided in England. Dr. Manoel de Arriaga was the first President, and he held office until 1915. The present President is Dr. Manoel Teixeira Gomez. Only a few months ago, there was an abortive revolutionary outbreak. Personal ambitions of political and military leaders and rivals underlie Portugal's unsettled administrations.]

KOWLOON LADY HURT.

RECKLESS CYCLIST FINED.

The total disregard of the traffic regulations shown by young cyclists led to an accident, on Saturday, when a European lady was thrown out of a ricksha. Minor injuries were suffered by both passenger and the coolie.

As a result of the incident, a Chinese appeared before Mr. J. H. B. Nihill, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, on charges of reckless driving and driving his machine on the wrong side of Nathan Road.

The defendant was stated to have been riding on the "wrong side of the road and collided with a ricksha, which was overturned, throwing the passenger, Mrs. Ponsford, into the roadway. Fortunately, the consequences were not serious, Mrs. Ponsford being slightly hurt.

His Worship imposed a fine of $7 on both charges and further ordered the defendant to pay the ricksha coolie $1 compensation. Mrs. Ponsford intimating that she did not wish to be compensated.

A number of other youths were charged with infringements of the regulations and were fined $5 each.

AT THE THEATRES.

"QUO VADIS" AT THE QUEEN'S.

Hongkong has seen "Quo Vadis" as a picture before and we think that these previous pictures of the story of Rome in Nero's time were better than the Italian picture which is now being shown at the Queen's Theatre. That great German actor, Emil Jannings, takes the part of Nero, but even that does not rescue the picture out of the errors committed by the producer. There's far too much emphasis given to ridiculous Bacchanalian scenes, there is a regrettable exaggeration of the fabled immortality and cruelty of those far-off times and the picture is a dizzying whirl of runnings to and fro either on the part of individuals or multitudes. One gets the impression of breathless speed and sheer abnormality, whereas tottering Rome wasn't a bit like that. There are some "colossal" sets and scenes, some extremely good acting and fine photography. The picture takes up the whole of the programme, and there are slight changes in the hours of showing.

UNION CHURCH.

TRIBUTE TO SIR PAUL
CHATER.

Special reference to the late Sir Paul Chater and the generous benefactions he had made to the Union Church, was made by the Rev. J. Kirk Macconachie in the course of a sermon he preached at Union Church yesterday.

Having referred to the fact that it was purely owing to Sir Paul's generosity that it was possible to have a Union Church on the Kowloon side, Mr. Macconachie said that Sir Paul was a man of liberal soul who devised liberal things, and who was always looking ahead, venturing in the van of new developments. He was a man of true enterprise and he (the preacher) thought that the progress of the Colony and the public welfare at large became more and more the mainspring of Sir Paul's amazing activities long beyond the period of life when most men would have sought "a well-earned retirement."

In speaking of Sir Paul's benefactions to the Union Church, Mr. Macconachie said that all his gifts were absolutely spontaneous and without hint or solicitation of any kind. Sir Paul offered to build a Union Church for Kowloon if the Government would grant a site and it hurt and disappointed him that the Government did not respond to his offer by granting a site in King's Park. The late Sir Paul had a marked graciousness accompanying all his generosity—courtesy and kindness and an entire absence of the manner of patronage. He had well served his generation in his own place and his appointed ways.

GOLD AND SILVER.

SALVAGE WORK ON
P. & O. LINER.

It is learned from Brest that the Union Industriel des Travaux Soumarins has undertaken to make an attempt to raise from the wreck of the P. and O. liner Egypt, sunk in May, 1922, the gold and silver ingots which were on board, and that the operations were to begin on May 11.

The Union Industriel has engaged the services of five German divers to cut through the metal bulkheads by means of submarine blowpipes. The ingots are stated to represent £839,000 in gold and £250,000 in silver.

The operations are expected to be completed by August.

While attempting to shoot a dog at Ping Chau Island on May 29th, Sub-Inspector Hope accidentally shot a Chinese in the neck. The man has been admitted to the Government Civil Hospital.

Mrs. Jenkin, 409 The Peak, has reported to the police that, early last evening, while riding in a chair between Battery Path and the Lower Tram Station, she lost a gold ring set with diamonds, valued at $300.

CHARACTER IN BUSINESS.NEED FOR BETTER TYPE RECRUITS.

Headmasters and headmistresses of secondary schools, together with representative business men, met in conference at the County Hall, Westminster, recently to discuss the question of the recruitment and training of boys and girls for the retail distribution trades.

Mr. Percy A. Best, President of the Incorporated Association of Retail Distributors, said it was argued that the best trained children should not be urged to enter commerce, because business was not the most desirable and for their future lives to be engaged in. Many teachers had given him concrete cases to prove that the best trained children should not be sent into business because all the fine character they had gained in their training was attacked by the things they were asked to do in business.

Public Service.

"But after all," said Mr. Best, "business is a public service, and therefore the very best minds that can be brought to business should be brought to it. We are very anxious in business that better and better types of young people should seek service. If we cannot agree that business as a public service is worthy, then the quicker we can fill the ranks of business with sound character the more worthy will the business of this country become in the future."

Mr. Best added that he wanted the co-operation of those present at the conference in the London County Council scheme for providing special courses of instruction in retail business in order to give young people an opportunity of doing well in this work. Classes were held at the Horseferry-road Continuation School, Westminster. There was a special course of instruction for ex-secondary pupils which lasted six months. The training course was designed by merchants and educationists working in co-operation, and all students who had passed through the course were found positions in one or other of the London stores.

Prizes of Business.

Mr. Hopton, of Messrs. Holdrons, Ltd., Peckham, said that business offered as fine and even a finer prize than did insurance companies and banks to the boys who were prepared to go straight.

Mr. Cholmeley, Headmaster of Owen's School, Islington, said that there was undoubtedly a sort of general suspicion of business as compared with service in other great undertakings, such as banking and insurance. He did not think that business was any less moral than banking. A parent would go to him and ask if it were any use putting his boy into business unless he had the capacity for selling a man a thing he did not want. (Laughter.)

Mr. Court, another headmaster, said he had placed twenty of his boys in a famous store, and when he had gone to see how they were getting on they had complained that they liked the work, but that there were no prospects. "I asked them why there were no prospects," said Mr. Court, "and the boys replied that the directors and managers and chiefs of this firm were bringing into the business their own sons, who had had a University education, so that they (the boys) had no chances against them."

Mr. Court added: "If this is happening in this particularly large firm it surely happens in many others. If boys and girls were assured that ability was going to bring them to the front I think it would help very considerably."

St. Paul's Cathedral possesses its own private fire brigade and water service, the latter installed by Canon Alexander shortly before the war. St. Paul's does not strike the ordinary observer as being a building that would easily burn, being mostly of stone, which of course is non-inflammable. But more or less hidden away in the thickness of the walls, and elsewhere in the interior of the huge building, are many hundreds of passages, corridors, rooms, cupboards, and staircases, composed largely of wood. The outer dome—the one that is seen from the street—is also of wood, encased with lead. Moreover, nearly all this wood is very old and dry, and once alight would burn furiously.

THE AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

AN AMERICAN VICTORY.

Muirfield, May 29.
In the final Sweetser was four up at the end of the first eighteen holes.

Sweetser won the first in four and Simpson squared at the third and became one up at the sixth,
where he had a wonderful approach. Sweetser squared at the seventh and won the eighth in four, then halved the ninth. Simpson squared at the tenth, but Sweetser won the next two for two up. The fourteenth was halved and Simpson missed a two yard put at the next for a three. The next two were halved and Sweetser won the eighteenth, finishing four up.

Sweetser Victorious.
Later.
The British Amateur Golf Championship over 36 holes was won by Jesse Sweetser of America, who beat A. Simpson of Lothian
Burnaby seven and five.

The Play Described.
For the second round 6,000
spectators were present in ideal weather. Sweetser won the first and halved the next two. Simpson holed a ten yard putt at the fourth, winning this and the fifth,
where the American missed a yard putt. The sixth was halved and Simpson picked up his ball at the seventh, making Sweetser four up.

The eighth was halved, Simpson taking six to get to the green and he picked up his ball again at the ninth.

Then the tenth and eleventh were halved, but Simpson was bunkered at the twelfth, which went to Sweetser at the thirteenth. Sweetser holed a five yard putt after Simpson had holed one of three yards, thus halving the hole for a second American victory in the history of the championship. The only other American to win was Walter Travis in 1904.

The Walker Cup Teams.

SATURDAY'S WEDDING.

ACTING VARSITY REGISTRAR MARRIED.

There was a large gathering at St. John's Cathedral on Saturday afternoon on the occasion of the marriage of Mr. William Kearley Reynolds, Acting Registrar of Hongkong University, to Miss Lal Muriel Hutton. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds of Wisbech, Cambs., England, and the bride is the daughter of the late Mr. James Collin Hutton and of Mrs. Hutton, of Melbourne, Australia.

The Rev. C. H. Copley Mayle officiated.
The bride, who was given away by Mr. H. A. Jones, was charmingly attired in a dress of silver lace over flesh pink satin, tulle veiled, with lace bodice, and amongst the flounces of tulle on the skirt were tiny posies of orange blossom and pink roses. The dress had a silver tissue train lined with pink georgette. She wore a tulle veil with orange blossom and carried a bouquet of white gardenias and pale pink roses.

Miss Kathleen O'Neill, of Melbourne, Australia, the bridesmaid, wore a becoming pink georgette frock with garlands of hand-made roses and lace trimmed skirt nicely set off with a rose wreath as headgear.

The bride's mother wore a dress of black georgette embossed with gold over gold lame. She wore a black hat, and carried a bouquet of autumn tinted flowers. Mrs. H. A. Jones, matron of honour, was dressed in wine coloured georgette with silver embroidery and hat to match.

Master Austin Jones was the page-boy, and Mr. H. J. Pearce, M. C., best man.
After the ceremony a large number of friends were entertained at the Hongkong Hotel Roof Garden. Later the bride and bridegroom left for the honeymoon, which is being spent at Repulse Bay Hotel.

The bride travelled in a French frock of white pussy willow with persimmon red and silver embroidery, and picture hat to match.

THE MOROCCAN WAR.

END OF FRANCO-SPANISH CAMPAIGN.

For May 30.

The final stages of the Riff war are being accompanied by theatrical submissions. For example M. Steeg yesterday, surrounded by 10,000 mounted native auxiliaries and all the chiefs participating in the war, received the formal surrender of the great Beni-Zerual tribe at the exact place where the tribes opened hostilities last year.

A Madrid message mentions that in continued operations, mostly in the nature of clearing up, Spanish sentries intercepted and killed a rebel attempting to cross the lines at Mellilla. The rebel is believed to be the Riff War Minister.

Another notable, namely Muley Ali, nephew of the deceased Ralsuli, surrendered to the Spaniards in the course of the latter's advance.

RUBBER PRICES.

PERSISTENT FLUCTUATIONS DISCUSSED.

London, May 30.

Alluding to the persistence with which rubber has fluctuated in the neighbourhood of twenty-one pence per lb, the Observer financial correspondent opines there is a concerted movement apparently in progress to bring the average price current for three months below twenty-one pence, and thereby automatically enforce a reduction of twenty per cent. of standard production.

WHY YOU CAN'T SLEEP.

Some people lie awake for hours before they can fall asleep. Others wake suddenly in the small hours and worry over trifles, while some doze fitfully and never feel rested. It is the disordered condition of the nervous system that causes insomnia. The nerves are not receiving proper nutrition, and in the quiet of the night, when the muscles relax, these nerves are restless and cry out for the nourishment the blood cannot supply.

What is needed is a good tonic. Dr. Williams' pink pills are recommended because they assist the digestive organs to take blood-making ingredients from the food and supply the nerves with the nutrition they need. With satisfied nerves sleep comes easily and naturally.

Dr. Williams' pink pills do more than help the nerves. Their main function is to enrich the blood, and as the blood supplies the whole body, new life and vigour are given to the entire system. Your chemist can supply you with Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8. for six bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiango Road, Shanghai. Now is the best time to begin. Delay lets matters get worse.

TROUBLE IN SHANGHAI.

SERIOUS EVENTS ON FATEFUL ANNIVERSARY.

Shanghai, May 30.

The expected trouble in connection with the anniversary of the May 30 affair of last year, has started.

Hitherto there is still hope that the police will be able to control the situation without resort to very serious measures.

That part of Nanking Road which was the scene of last year's firing, started to become more crowded at one o'clock, mostly with curious Chinese expecting something to happen. These provided good material for the agitators, who soon worked them up to a serious pitch. From then they began stopping trams and ejecting the passengers and smashing the windows. Police reinforcements were called out, using their batons. Later, two firing parties were called out, one being stretched across the busiest part of the street and the other by Louza Station, where the trouble started last year.

Injuries from Brickbats.

Besides the aforementioned, one caged motor-car with foreign police standing on the top with quickfiring guns, and a policeman with a megaphone warning the crowds to keep back, is driving up and down the street.

The Fire Brigade has also been called out, and is lining the streets leading off Nanking and Chekiang Roads.

Crowds have been throwing bricks at the firemen, who replied with their hoses, which is keeping back the crowds at present.

One foreign fireman has been seriously hurt, and one foreign civilian badly injured, both with bricks.

Foreigners in richshas have been molested and the richsha coolies beaten.

The police are handling the situation with great discretion. Several better-class Chinese have been seen in the crowds attempting to calm their compatriots, without tangible result. There has been no firing on either side.

Volunteers Called Out.

Later.
The trouble started at two this afternoon, and by four thirty the police had the situation well in hand and had cleared a large part of Nanking Road of all Chinese. Half the Volunteers have been called out. These are assisting the police to patrol Nanking Road, while a motor-cycle squad is patrolling the back alleys.

Crowds in other populous districts of Shanghai have also indulged in spasmodic stone-throwing, many trams having every window smashed. The crowds are now apparently mostly good-humoured and amenable to police discipline.

At six this evening they were gradually melting away. Among several foreigners assaulted were three men and one woman who were sent to hospital, but their injuries were not serious, and they were bandaged and sent home.

BOTVED THE UNFORTUNATE.

A CRASH IN KOREA.

Tokyo, May 30.

The Danish aviator, Commander Botved, is reported to have crashed when landing last evening at Taikyoo, Korea, where he arrived from Heijo. He damaged his propeller but was not hurt himself. He will probably be delayed several days for repairs.

Later.
The police throughout have behaved with the utmost restraint, and few arrests have been made. The police are hopeful the trouble will be a one day affair.

Foreign Volunteers with fixed bayonets are patrolling the principal streets this evening, and no trams or buses have been running since this afternoon.

Isolated foreigners in several instances have been pelted with stones, but this is mostly the work of small boys; otherwise the situation is quiet.

LIFEBOAT HEROINES IN LONDON.

Awards for gallantry were made by the Royal National Lifeboat Institution in London recently to the 35 women who dragged the Boulmer (Northumberland) lifeboat for a mile and a quarter in a blizzard last December. On their behalf, Miss N. Stephenson and Mrs. B. Stanton received the awards. They are seen in the picture with Coxswain Robert Cross, of the Humber lifeboat, and Coxswain W. G. Fleming, of Gorleston.

JUDGE'S ORDER.

gistrar on the 17th April and was duly registered by him. This document is described in its cover as a "Floating Charge." On perusal it becomes clear that it is in fact, a mortgage to the claimant of the chattels in question. The consideration of the mortgage is $24,000. It vests the legal ownership of those articles in the claimant, who is therefore entitled to an order for the release of those articles.

NO COLLUSION.

"There is here no question of collusion between the claimant and the debtor. I make this order in the present instance with some reluctance. It seems to me the landlord is being penalised for having shown an exemplary patience during a period of commercial depression. If the Nam King Restaurant, Limited, being in arrears with its rent, had caused to be removed from the premises this property, so as to prevent or hinder the bailiff from distraining the same, a remedy is provided for the landlord by Section 37 of the Distress for Rent Ordinance. But if the established practice of the Court is correct, it is possible that the same purpose may be legally accomplished by the method of assignment by way of mortgage on removal from the premises."

The costs of the claim were ordered to be paid by the plaintiffs.

BUBBLING WELL FAIR.

HUGE GROWTH A MENACE TO TRAFFIC.

"The prostitution of 'olo custom' to general commerce seems, says the N. C. Daily News, likely to prove disastrous to the future of the Chinese Basket Fair at Bubbling Well, an annual institution of very ancient history—so ancient, in fact, that its real origin is buried in obscurity.

Few Shanghai housewives are unaware of the fair's existence, and the bargains in basketware to be found at it in years past. But, alas, the fair has overgrown its strength and accommodation. Whereas in former years it comprised simply a few almost unostentatious booths on the pavements, at which the country people from miles around sold the produce of their energy, baskets and wickerware, lately there has grown around the Bubbling Well a huge market at which anything for the household from a packet of pins to a four poster bed may be bought. Instead of a few small stalls there are now booths, stretching several hundred yards down the Bubbling Well Road, well up into Great Western Road, up the Yu Yuen Road and down any alleyway and where room for a stall may be had. Thousands of Chinese throng the roads, motor driving is a penance and tramcars simply crawl through the locality. In addition, haggling over bargains has led to many quarrels, all sorts of loafers have been attracted to the scene, and the police have been given a considerable amount of trouble, much more than at any other basket fair in the history of Shanghai. Consequently, we are informed that steps are likely to be taken

HAMLET IN MODERN CLOTHES.

CRITICS ON THE VIENNA
PRODUCTION.

Vienna, April 14.—While the audience at the Deutsches Volkstheater received Mr. Ayliff's production of "Hamlet" with great enthusiasm, the Press has not been so favourable regarding the "modernisation" of the play. Some journals go so far as to call it a "parody of Shakespeare." The production certainly was a remarkable one, especially Alexander Moissi's interpretation of "Hamlet," of which several critics say that it is his great art of acting which rendered the experiment possible. The mis-en-scene is generally commended for being "piquant." One scene between Hamlet and Ophelia is declared to be quite new in feeling, thanks to Mr. Ayliff's arrangement; while on the other hand the critics are exceedingly annoyed at the idea of Hamlet smoking cigarettes and Laertes carrying a revolver (at which some people laughed). One critic argues that Mr. Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan," owing to its modern feeling, might be played in modern dress, but by no means Shakespeare.

In a long review the Neue Freie Presse finds the modern effects contradictory. It calls the whole thing a sensation of fashion, inartistic, cold, and cynical, depriving Hamlet of all that is visionary in him. In 1919 Reinhardt, the journal says, attempted this play in modern dress in Berlin much more artistically, but it proved a failure. It is a passing fashion. The realism kills the poetic expression. One had the feeling of attending some rehearsal, in the course of which the actors delivered their parts while eating an occasional ham sandwich.

Another play in which Moissi excelled is Romain-Rolland's one-act drama, "A Play of Love and Death." It is one of the most stirring dramas seen here for a long time.

either for the fair's discontinuance or for its removal elsewhere in future.

The way in which the character of the fair has changed is remarkable. In past years the selling has all been done by the country people, who have taken advantage of it for a yearly pilgrimage to the old Bubbling Well temple, where joss has been burned to gods of wealth and work, and blessings prayed for the next year's efforts. Lately, however, there is more than a suspicion that the merchants—smaller Chinese merchants of the city—have been putting their goods on the market. This is borne out by the sight of wardrobes, Soochow bath-tubs, travelling trunks, beds, tables and chairs exposed for sale. The baskets remain, of course, but they can hardly be said to predominate. And as the numbers of salesmen grow, so, proportionately, does the number of pilgrims to the temple decrease. This is bad for the priests, and presumably, for the people themselves, inasmuch as they are unable to spare time from money-making to pay to religion.

FLIGHT TO AUSTRALIA.

MR. ALAN COBHAM'S NEXT ENTERPRISE.

Mr. Alan Cobham, who is to start on a flight to Australia within the next month, was the guest recently of the Over-Seas League at the monthly luncheon at the Criterion Restaurant. This next flight is to be a fast flight right through, and, in addition to Mr. Elliott, who always accompanies Mr. Cobham as his mechanic, another mechanic will be taken to carry out the less responsible portion of the refuelling and preparation work for the next stage. Having reached Australia, Mr. Cobham will endeavour to make an equally fast flight back.

Mr. Cobham emphasized how important a part aviation could play, and was playing, in advancing Great Britain. Those flights to link together the Empire made people alive to the geography of the British Empire, stimulated the local interest of the various parts, and so brought nearer the day when our far-flung Empire would become a close-knit whole held together by quick means of communication by airships and aeroplanes, supplementing ground transport. He would urge them to remember that over here we were flying in the worst weather in the world, and if 85 per cent. of regularity or more could be maintained even under such conditions it was easy to maintain, as they did in Australia, 100 per cent. of regularity under Empire weather conditions.

He hoped in a few weeks to start on another long flight, this time to Australia, and he was pleased to say that the same firms which had backed his previous flight to the Cape were going to support this further effort. This route he hoped in a few years was going to become an Empire air route, and next year Imperial Airways were to operate one section of it from Egypt to India. He knew the possibilities of flying to India and from Calcutta to Rangoon. He was now going to explore the possibilities beyond that point. In view of their European experience he did not anticipate any insurmountable difficulties. Aviation and Empire development, he was convinced, would be very closely linked in the next few years.

Sir Arnold Wilson said that he had now spent 400 hours in the air between Baghdad and Cairo, and as an illustration of the value of air transport pointed out that, whereas it used to take six weeks to get a letter from London to Iraq, it now required only eight days.

There is touching truth worth recording in the closing words of Sir Squire Bancroft in the Volume of Recollections, by himself and his wife, published fifteen years ago:—

"As we players pass down the ages, the remorseless figure of Time following at our heels with his relentless scythe, mowing us one by one from his path, successors happily and joyously, in all the splendour of youth, are ready to take on our work, as those of to-day have replaced others whose turn was done. So it will be ever." Bancroft made his first appearance in London 61 years ago on April 15.
